

Queensland Health Rural Generalist Positions Guide

Position	Scope of practice / training opportunities	Indicative level / base salary ¹
Principal House Officer (PHO) / Registrar	A PHO / Registrar is a medical practitioner usually in their third and subsequent postgraduate years who provides clinical care and medical supervision of a clinical unit whilst maximising their own postgraduate training and education and supervising and teaching junior medical officers and students. PHO positions are available in regional training hospitals and rural hospitals. In larger centres the term PHO is used to describe a medical practitioner who is not undertaking an accredited course of study leading to a higher medical qualification; however, in rural hospitals it is often used to include medical practitioners who are enrolled on a training program with RACGP or ACRRM. Regional hospital PHO positions may be a good choice for Rural Generalist Trainees who have not yet completed Advanced Skills Training (AST) and who wish to remain in that location to undertake relevant training which will benefit their intended rural community. There are opportunities to complete a paediatric diploma, DRANZCOG basic, EM certificate etc. Rural PHO positions may be a good choice for those who wish to undertake rural placement before AST. Rural Generalist Medicine Prevocational Certification is a prerequisite for a rural PHO position. Rural PHO positions are also available for trainees after AST completion in locations where medical workforce market forces are such that higher level positions are not required to support recruitment. PHOs are not granted scope of clinical practice and practice under the supervision of credentialed senior medical officers. Trainees should contact the team for advice pertaining to individual circumstances and to ensure training will count towards fellowship requirements.	PHO Level 4 - 7 inclusive (PHO1 to PHO4) $105,377 - $116,066 Registrar Level 4 - 9 inclusive (REG1 to REG6) $105,377 - $122,176

Senior Medical Officer - Provisional Fellow (SMOPF)	SMOPF is a medical practitioner in rural and remote Queensland completing vocational training at a higher pay level than PHO. Trainees are eligible for this position type where they have achieved both Rural Generalist Medicine Prevocational Certification and certified completion of an advanced skill accredited by ACRRM or RACGP. The advanced skill must be in one of the eight disciplines approved by Queensland Health and match the discipline nominated in the role description. SMOPFs are granted scope of clinical practice within their advanced skill discipline without supervision and in general practice with supervision as prescribed by ACRRM or RACGP.	Level 13 - 14 inclusive (C1-1 to C1-2) $148,091 - $152,719 Increment from Level 13 to 14 requires five years of service. Additional allowances such as on call and attraction and retention payments apply.
Senior Medical Officer (SMO) - Rural Generalist Advanced Credentialed Practice	Rural Generalists with Advanced Credentialed Practice (ACP) are appointed to work unsupervised and practice within their approved, credentialed scope of clinical practice in Rural Generalist Medicine and their advanced skill discipline. Appointment at SMO Rural Generalist ACP level requires: FACRRM, including certified successful completion of AST in at least one of eight Queensland Health approved disciplines nominated in the role description; and / or FRACGP plus Fellowship in Advanced Rural General Practice (FARGP) with successful completion of AST in an approved discipline nominated in the role description.	Level 18 - 23 inclusive (C2-1 to C2-6) $171,044 - $193,956
Medical Officer with Private Practice (MOPP) Medical Superintendent with Private Practice (MSPP)	Medical Officers and Medical Superintendents with Private Practice are medical practitioners employed (retained) by Queensland Health who work in smaller rural hospitals. They provide services to the hospital as well as private general practice services in the town. These positions are usually in towns that are too small to support procedural advanced skills (e.g. surgery, anaesthetics or obstetrics) however advanced skills in emergency medicine, Indigenous health, mental health, adult internal medicine etc would likely be desirable. A trainee with a procedural advanced skill could still take one of these positions, if a nearby larger hospital (e.g. Cherbourg to Kingaroy) was able to provide a regular or intermittent opportunity for practice with the advanced skill.	MOPP1-1 to MOPP 1-3 $133,400 - $141,605 MSPP1-1 to MSPP1-4 $133,400 - $145,803 Senior MSPP $149,966 - $154,629 Note: Unlimited Private Practice provides capacity for separate private practice earnings in addition to the salary listed.

This position might be attractive for a trainee with a procedural advanced skill and a particular location preference if there are no hospital positions available at that location.
