

QRGP Decline and Withdrawal Guide

The Queensland Rural Generalist Pathway (QRGP) is committed to ensuring recruitment, selection and balloting processes are undertaken in a fair and equitable manner and follow due process.

Purpose

To outline the process that occurs when a QRGP trainee declines their offer or withdraws from their allocated QRGP intern position.

Scope

This guide applies to all final year medical students who have been successful in their application to join the QRGP and are due to commence internship the following year.

Decline

Should a candidate decline their offer of a position on the Pathway, after interview and within the offer period, the opportunity exists to apply to the General Intern Campaign, without penalty, provided they make application before the closing date. Please refer to the General Intern Campaign for details of how to apply. If candidates are still interested in pursuing a career in rural medicine, they may still be able to join the QRGP in subsequent years, through the Postgraduate Entry Recruitment process.

Withdrawal

If a candidate wishes to withdraw their QRGP application prior to interview, they should do so by emailing rural\_generalist@health.qld.gov.au. Application can then be made to the General Intern Campaign, without penalty, provided submission is completed prior to the closing date.

If a QRGP trainee declines or withdraws after accepting a position on the Pathway, the following terms and conditions may apply:

- The applicant will forego their QRGP intern status and be withdrawn from the QRGP and/or,
- The applicant will not be considered for any other Intern position in Queensland for the intended year of internship and/or,
- The applicant may be allocated a priority status of Group D in subsequent application years.
